Reviving Air Freight in LPL

Our goal as a business was to revive air freight in Liverpool airport and help re-establish Liverpool as a cargo port.

Until the year 2000 Liverpool was a reliable and popular choice for air freight but, due to a loss of business to other regional airports, focus switching to passenger volume rather than freight and there was a huge drop in chartered flights which had a big impact.

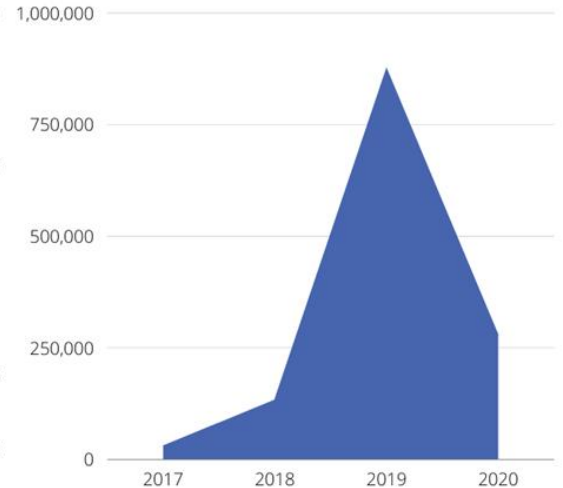

This combination saw cargo numbers plummet as seen below.

Prior to Wynne Aviation taking over the transit shed at Liverpool airport, the average annual amount of cargo brought into the airport was 80,000 kilos. In 2019 we handled 873,000 kilos of cargo increasing demand by 990%.

990% Growth

We have successfully re-established Liverpool as a top choice for charters and we now have the foundations to get cargo numbers back to where we want them to be.

Covid-19

The Covid-19 pandemic has had a huge impact across most businesses worldwide and we were not spared from the impact. Despite huge growth in 2019 major disruption to the aviation sector and airport closures in 2020 had an impact on cargo coming into all UK airports. We have had to adapt to survive during this period.

- We worked with the Airport to provide windows of operation to keep goods moving.
- We have had to adapt to restrictions to keep our business operating as effective as possible.
- We have supported the transport of PPE to the Isle of Man.
- Helped support hospitals with key parts for equipment when required.
- Increased our support to the local automotive industry, helping them import and export throughout the pandemic.

Brexit

In January 2021, the UK transition period for Brexit ended bringing in new rules for trade, travel and businesses. The main difference in our industry was the new red tape introduced on goods moving to and from the UK and EU. We prepared for this ahead of time and already have team members with excellent experience with customs clearance, so we easily took this into our stride.

- We have upgraded all our systems to accommodate the changes to the rules.
- We have trained our team on the new procedures so they can handle clearance requests with ease.
- We have customs clearance badges for all major UK and Ports.

BOUNCING BACK FROM 2020

Our Preparations for Brexit really helped us bounce back from 2020 and showed promising signs of recovery early on in 2021.

We have become the 'go to' company for Customs Clearance and one of Europe's most reliable cargo handling agents.

We are helping support hundreds of local businesses and jobs in the area through imports and exports. In January alone we handled 195,000 kilos of cargo almost two thirds of the amount we handled in 2020.

However due to the effects of Covid 19 restrictions demand is lower than usual.

CHALLENGES WE'VE FACED FROM COVID-19 AND BREXIT

The main challenge we have faced has to be Covid-19. Like many companies we've had to adapt to changes in everyday life and most importantly find ways for our employees to operate safely as key workers. Their safety has been paramount during the pandemic.

Brexit caused a lot of disruption for us mainly with our contract logistics as some of them had difficulty moving goods across borders, causing large backlogs in deliveries. We are monitoring this closely and have even stepped in to assist with customs clearance in a lot of instances.
